PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Our project management covers briefing, budget control, design review, and approval procedures, documentation, procurement and construction.

Riwaqs's Methodology is simply acquiring each aspect of its project and comprehending the overall time constraints of the project and the critical lead times involved in each stage of project delivery, including preparing and certifying design documentation, preparation of packages, contracts, materials and equipment supply and site mobilization, "move-in" and operational and interface issues.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk management is the process of identifying, analyzing and responding to any risk that arises to help the project remain on track and meet its goal. Risk management should be part of the planning process to figure out risks that might happen and how to control that risk if it occurs.

We understand that every project is different each with its own complexities and challenges that require sensitive handling. Riwaq has proven risk management strategies for minimization and containment that ensures a project remains within the projected time frame.
